

I woke up next to Kaitlin, my girlfriend, in our master bedroom. Something wasn't right, it was as if someone was watching... I went over to the large window and looked out, but could not see anything. "It must just be the heat," I thought, throwing open the window and letting the night breeze blow past my genitals, bare from a night of sex. I went back to bed and snuggled in next to Kaitlin, spooning her gently and listening to her soft breathing.

I awoke with a start after I heard a banging in the hallway. I threw back the covers, waking my girlfriend in the process. She started to ask what I was doing, but stopped suddenly as the frame of the largest woman I had ever seen ducked through the doorway. I gasped and sat up in bed, pushing myself against the headboard. I felt Kaitlin press her head into my side, and I put my arm around her protectively.

"What are you doing here?" I shouted. "Get out!"

The woman passed in front of the window, only her silhouette visible in the dim moonlight. She had a slender build, but being nearly 7 feet tall, had arms and legs thicker and more muscular than the average man. I could faintly see in the outline of her head that her hair must be a light color, blonde or even platinum blonde. I could see none of her face, but from the large bulge outward around her chest could tell she was well endowed, even proportional to her size. Kaitlin and I huddled over to the corner of the bed farthest from her, Kaitlin whimpering softly. The intruder slowly circled over to where my side of the bed had been.

In all but an instant she jumped, pinning Kaitlin and I under each of her legs. I struggled free but could do nothing against the weight of this massive woman. In the very dim moonlight, I could make out her face above us, looking from one to the other. Was she licking her lips? I was startled as the woman bent down and stuck her head right in front of my face, breathing on my nose. She pushed farther and began kissing me deeply. I struggled furiously as she forced her tongue into the back of my mouth, and I could hear Kaitlin struggling and shouting at the woman to stop. After what seemed like minutes, as I was at the end of my breath, she finally withdrew. I gasped and coughed, and the woman laughed and turned to my girlfriend. "Your turn," she giggled, leaning into Kaitlin's face. I could not even protest on behalf of my girlfriend, as I was still recovering from my own violation, and I felt sick as I realized my own arousal at the lesbian scene in front of me. The woman was being even rougher with Kaitlin than she was with me, and as she was kissing her I could feel her digging her fingers into my chest and becoming more and more aggressive with her kissing, to the dismay of Kaitlin.

Suddenly, against anything I thought possible, the woman gave a grunt and seemed to fall into Kaitlin. Her jaw was wider than I thought possible, and my girlfriend's head was well into the maw of this specimen. I could do nothing but stare in wonder as the woman continued to draw Kaitlin deeper into her, slowly traveling down her neck and up to her shoulders. All the while she kept a firm grip on me, never letting up her weight despite the task she was undertaking. She turned Kaitlin's body slightly to the side, and popped one shoulder into her mouth. Reaching under an armpit, she pushed until my girlfriend's breasts were touching her lower lips.

Here she paused and turned her head so it was facing closer my direction, and more directly in the moonlight. Her eyes met mine, and I thought I could see her smile slightly, as much as one can with a human body in their mouth. Her hand left Kaitlin's armpit, and instead favored her breasts. She kneaded and squeezed, and I could finally see Kaitlin begin to struggle, shocked out of her daze.

After a few minutes the woman became bored of her molestation, and resumed her meal. She shifted her body so that she was laying over my chest, thus freeing her second hand. One of her hands went back to Kaitlin's armpit, while her newly freed hand went to her butt. With an audible groan she began pushing Kaitlin deeper into her body, popping one breast in at a time. By this time I had tears in my eyes, but could not speak due to my lungs being compressed by the weight of the woman and her meal. At this point Kaitlin's stomach and arms were on deck to be consumed, so the woman reached both her hands around on to her butt, and gave a mighty heave. With a sloping sound, my girlfriend's entire torso slipped into her body, leaving her butt and legs and wriggling hands free.

At this the woman paused, and with great effort sat up slightly, looking down at me. She grabbed one of my hands, and guided it to her stomach. I didn't fight, and could only cry softly as i felt Kaitlin's upper body struggling in vain under the larger woman's skin. She put her other hand under my chin and forced me to look up into her face as she gave a cruel wink and resumed the consumption. She shifted her body again, this time bringing a leg over me, straddling me completely. I watched in horror as she brought one hand up to one of Kaitlin's legs and the other down to her pussy, and began fingering herself as she finished her meal. Lifting Kaitlin all the way over her head, she let gravity do its work, and Kaitlin slid all the way down to her ankles in a matter of seconds. With this the woman's stomach expanded grotesquely. The writhing mass lay upon my chest, and I could feel my girlfriend's helpless struggles through a layer of skin and flesh.

With a final slurp, the woman sucked in the feet as one might spaghetti. She gave a mighty belch and slid down so most of her weight was on my thighs.

"Would you like a taste?" She asked in a sultry tone, licking one finger seductively. She leaned over, her stomach resting on my chest and stomach, and went in for a kiss. I gagged as she stuck her tongue deep into my mouth, but it did not seem to phase her at all. She nibbled my lip and grabbed my hands and brought them to her breasts, squeezing. After minutes of this torture she finally backed off. She sat back on her haunches and leaned back, lifting her belly off of me. I panted as I was finally able to breathe clearly. I felt her grab my penis and looked down to see her guiding it into her vagina. I closed my eyes as i felt her heavy body slide down my shaft and stop at my pelvis. With a sigh, she began pumping up and down on me. I felt a tear fall off the side of my face as my cock shamefully expanded inside of her vagina, tight even for a woman her size. This went on for minutes, and it took all of my will not to cum inside of her as her hands grabbed mine and massaged her still moving stomach. Finally, after resisting as long as I could, I felt my dick tighten, and put my head back and screamed in ecstasy as I blew my load deep into her. I heard her moan, and felt her slowly slide off of my now flaccid penis.

Looking down at me, she smiled and brought my hands up to her mouth. Slowly she engulfed them, and fed my arms into her mouth inch by inch. Exhausted, I submitted to my fate and let my eyes roll back. Barely conscious, i was slowly consumed by this beast of a woman. Soon my torso was completely inside of her, and my hands felt the Kaitlin's butt at the entrance of the stomach. I slid further, feeling my prick licked by the woman's probing tongue. My hands went further along my girlfriend's back, and I could feel her slow breathing. Then I could feel the woman lifting me up the same way she did Kaitlin, and my legs were pulled almost all the way down into her. Finally, I felt the woman's hand push down on my feet, and I slid down the rest of her throat and into her stomach. I let my legs fall behind Kaitlin's, and fell asleep spooning my girlfriend.
