

BECOMING A KEYBLADE MASTER

“C’mon, you can do it! Are you ready? Kairi?”

Aqua’s question fell on deaf ears, the red haired girl was completely focused. She was holding her key shaped sword tightly as a mystic aura was condensed at the tip of the blade. Aqua was teaching everything she knew about magic to Kairi, since she was an expert magician. It was part of Kairi’s training to become Keyblade master.

“Ok, visualize the element... once you have it in you mind, cast the spell!”

“Blizzaja!”

After Kairi shouted the spell, an enormous projectile made of ice was released from the tip of her Keyblade. It went rapidly in the air and exploded, beautiful shards of ice fell on the ground.

“That was great!” exclaimed Aqua.

“I... I did it!”

In a bush nearby another girl, Luna, saw the scene. “T-That spell was amazing!” said Luna outloud, getting both Kairi’s and Aqua’s attention.

“Thanks! I’m still practising, but I’m getting the hang of it” replied Kairi.

“Please, could you teach me that? I know some spells too!”

“You know magic too? - asked Aqua – Are you a Keyblade wielder? Never saw you before.”

“No, actually... I don’t remember much. The last thing I can remember clearly is that I was surrounded by darkness, it was cold as ice all around me... and then I woke up here.”

Kairi and Aqua watched each other, she knew what may have happened to Luna. The darkness was consuming worlds one by one. When that happened, the people living on them either disappeared or were sent to other worlds, becoming refugees. The latter was probably Luna's case.

“Don’t worry – said Aqua – I don’t mind having another student, I’ll teach you both.”

The girl was happy beyond words, it was clear she had an hard time lately, and Aqua was willing to help her, maybe getting her memories back.

The three girls practised all evening and Luna showed some talents with magic, which surprised Aqua. She didn’t have a Keyblade but despite that she was a powerful sorcerer.

They trained until the sun went down and they all went to Merlin’s house. He was the most knowledgeable wizard in Aqua’s mind, maybe he knew something about Luna and about her magic. She got inside first and began to look around.

“Hello! Merlin, are you home? We need your advice.”

“...”

Aqua didn’t receive any answer; Merlin wasn’t here, maybe he went on one of his wacky travels across the worlds. But there was useful things in Merlin’s house that Aqua could showcase to her two apprentices.

“Ok, you did a great job today, time for some of the basics. Here you can see Merlin’s collection of Potions and Elixirs. There’s anything, from healing potions to-”

Aqua’s lesson was soon interrupted by Luna, who was already messing with one of the potions.

“Hey what’s up with this one? It’s glowing brighter than the others...”

Before Aqua could stop her, Luna took the potion and got a little taste of it.

“No Luna, don’t drink that! Who knows what that potion could do to you! How do you feel?”

“I’m... good! It was great, I don’t feel tired anymore! Here, you should try it as well.”

“We must be carefull, we still don’t know what that potion is-”

Aqua’s warnings fell on deaf ears once again, this time Kairi had a taste of the mysterious potion.

“C’mon, why did you-”

“I’m sorry Aqua, I was really tired, today’s training was pretty harsh.”

“Well, what about it, you too feel great as well?”

“Actually, yes. I feel much better now.”

Aqua’s initial fear quickly disappeared, since Kairi also seemed to be alright. And, for some odd reason, the potion didn’t seem that bad to Aqua at the moment.

“Ok, then it must be one of the healing potions. In that case, I’ll drink it too.”

After drinking the potion, Aqua immediately understood what Luna and Kairi were talking about. Not only it was delicious, but her body was filled with new energy. But that wasn’t the only thing that was happening to her, she began to feel insanely hungry, the void in her stomach was getting larger by the second.

She looked around and saw that she wasn’t the only one having the same reaction. Kairi and Luna were also feeling weird and all three of them looked at each other with eyes full of hunger.

The first one to snap was Aqua, who immediately went in front of Luna and grabbed her by the shoulders. She gave her a passionate kiss, that startled Luna and shocked Kairi. But what was going to happen next was even more shocking. Aqua’s mouth began to open, insanely wide, all around Luna’s face, a wet darkness was waiting for her.

“Aqua what are you doing, stop!”

Kairi’s words didn’t reach her master, she instead proceeded to engulf the girl’s head and began to swallow. Aqua didn’t take her time to savour her meal, who was struggling hard to get out of the situation. With messy and wet gulps she sent even more of the girl’s body down her throat.

In this dire situation, Kairi tried to stop Aqua by grabbing Luna’s legs but it proved to be useless. The girl was already sinking deeper and deeper inside Aqua’s mouth, who was moaning in complete bliss. Luna’s flailing legs were the only thing still remaining in the outside world. Eventually, even those slipped out of Kairi’s hands and disappeared past Aqua’s lips. After a satisfying sigh, Aqua sat on the ground, with her heavy and sloshing belly, firm between her legs. Kairi saw Luna pushing Aqua’s stomach walls from the inside, to no avail.

“UUUUUOOOORRPPP.”

“Aqua! What's wrong with you? I thought you wanted to help Luna, why are you doing this?”

Aqua caressed her belly and moaned, feeling Luna's shifting inside.

“Is it really that strange for you? Don't you feel as hungry as I am in this moment?”

What Aqua was saying was the truth, the potion they have took had clearly messed up with them somehow. Even now, Kairi couldn't help but drool a little while watching Aqua's belly, being so soft and plump...

“See? I can see you want a taste too. But I have other plans for dinner, you know, I still have room for the dessert...”

Aqua propped herself up and began to walk to Kairi, while holding her sloshing belly. It soon proved to be harder than she had thought, since Luna wasn't giving up that easily. Her meal trashed around and it was impossible for Aqua to keep her balance, eventually she tripped and fell over her immense belly.

With the woman struggling to get up, Kairi saw a new opportunity arise. She licked her lips as she slowly got behind Aqua, who was too busy in keeping her meal quiet. She managed to get around her unnoticed and she was now in front of Aqua's feet. She really didn't want to go on with this, heck she wasn't even sure she could do it! But the urge was too strong, the hunger endless.

Kairi began by shoving both of Aqua's feet in her mouth. She swallowed, as gently as possible, so that Aqua wouldn't see her. Unfortunately, Aqua did notice and began to struggle but her enormous gut did get in her way. Kairi kept swallowing regardless and slurped down the woman's tender legs.

“K-Kairi what are you doing? You were just saying that this is wrong!”

And yet, the red haired girl didn't care one bit. She simply kept going, Aqua's butt was next and it was so soft and sweet! She took her time to fully savour its taste, while Aqua tried to get up or at least get free, without success.

The biggest challenge presented itself in front Kairi: Aqua's huge belly. She could still make out Luna's face pressing tightly against the stomach walls. She began by opening her mouth even wider than before and moved her lips across Aqua's skin. The occasional bulge popping out made things difficult for her but she endured and managed to fit more and more of Aqua's belly in her mouth.

“K-Kairi please, you can't do this! There are still many things we can learn, together!”

Aqua's attempts of convincing Kairi fell on deaf ears as the girl kept going on with her meal. She had succeeded in gulping down Aqua's immense belly and she was now enjoy the flavour of the woman's breasts. They plopped in her mouth with a resounding "GUULLPP" and only Aqua's head remained to send down in Kairi's belly.

The red haired girl waited for a moment, Aqua's immense gut had just passed through her throat and that was no easy task to accomplish for her. She gently rubbed her gigantic belly, that groaned in anticipation of the last part of the meal.

"Please, let me gouUUMPFH"

Aqua's head quickly disappeared behind Kairi's lips and joined the rest of her body in the girl's gut.

"UUUUUOOOOOOOORRPPP"

Kairi's belch was so huge that it shook Merlin's house. Now, full and satisfied, Kairi caressed her belly and tried to prop herself up but it was soon clear that was not going to happen... She watched her surroundings and found out that there was a really comfy bed ready for her to jump on. She slowly crawled over her sloshing belly and managed to get on the bed.

"That hit the spot, thanks girls!"

"Let us out Kairi! I'm your Keyblade master, you can't do this to me!"

Kairi gave Aqua's words a thought while patting her bloated belly

"You're right... You're a Keyblade master! Which means... I'm one too now since I ate you!
You're what you eat after all, isn't that right?"

"T-that's... that's not how it works!"

"Whatever, I guess it's time to sleep you off..."

"H-hey, Kairi?"

Aqua tried to talk her way out but once she heard Kairi's snoring she knew it was over. With the girl asleep the gastric juices begin to rise. The same was happening to Luna, she was submerged up to her head and almost no air was left...

[...]

“Are you alright my dear?”

“Uhmhhh...”

The red haired girl slowly opened her eyes, her head felt almost as heavy as her potbelly. She jostled with it a little, it was so soft at the touch.

“What are you doing in my bed? And wasn’t Aqua supposed to train you? Where is she?” Asked Merlin confused.

Still a bit dizzy, Kairi slowly remembered the events of yesterday and began sweating quite a lot.

“W-well, once training was over we came here to talk with you. But you weren’t home, so Aqua went out to search for you while I waited here. Unfortunately, I don’t know where she is.”

“I see, I see... but still... what’s up with your body?”

Kairi was startled by Merlin’s sudden question but she soon figured out why he was so surprised when she saw herself in the mirror. Not only her breasts had doubled in size but her ass as well!

“Well, I accidentally tried one of your potions... I’m sorry.”

“Oh you should be more careful young lady! This time was just this, but what would’ve happened if you turned into a dragon?”

“Y-yeah, I’ll be more careful, promess.”

“As you should!”

Merlin got out of the house, a bit pissed, while Kairi remained in front of the mirror as she explored the new curves of her body.

“Thanks girls, now I really feel like a Keyblade Master.”
