

When you wake up, and don't feel the texture of that bed in the cardboard box, for a brief moment you have hope. But then you realize the surface you're on is . . . warm and /pulsing/. . .

"Looks like you're up," the giantess's voice booms. You look up, and see her face in the sky, smiling down at you.

You sit up on her hand, panic filling you. "Please just let me go," you beg, feeling so tired of all this. "Please, I won't tell anyone!"

"Sorry cutie, I'm not done playing with you yet," your kidnapper purrs. "Let's get you on route to my stomach~!"

You wince and look away, expecting her to bring you up to her mouth. But instead, her hand goes down, and you open your eyes again, confused.

That's when you see that she's sitting on what appears to be her bed, and a moment later, she dumps you onto the sheets below. You stand up and turn around to face her, trying to prepare yourself for whatever she has in store for you this time.

The giantess giggles at you. "See ya," she says as you look back up, confused. "I can't wait to have you inside of my belly today!"

She turns around, so that her butt is facing you. Then she rears up, sitting up higher and higher, and you wonder what her end goal is here--is she going to sit on you?

Then, without warning, she brings her ass down on you! Her butt comes closer and closer, and her hole opens wide above you. You barely have time to react before you are shoved right up her ass like a butt plug.
