

A New Day

It was a bright and wonderful day on Nommingdale island, the chirping of bird's...the bright warm glow of the sun...and the soft wind blowing through the air and trees, today was a special day considering the Island had an a new resident coming to visit...a hybrid none the less... needless to say some people were very excited to meet them, for this island indulged itself with a fun lil thing known as vore...where it wasn't uncommon for your neighbor to decide you would be better off as a steaming turd rather than a person for the day...the outside world deemed it taboo ofcourse but this place thought differently....which caught the eye of Melon, the leader of the Shishigumi in Cherryton's back alley market...

Arrival

It would come time where the arrival would show up, showing up to Isabelle's desk...the hybrid's surgical mask on his face... kindly talking to the dog and receiving his house key's before he'd leave and head towards his home, surprisingly a fairly fancy dressed grey cat...it was a feline named Raymond "oh well hello there, you must be the new arrival... right?"

Raymond said "Indeed, Melon is my name..." Melon says in response to the Feline "Melon? what a unique name... certainly fits a unique man like yourself" Raymond replies with a smile on his face "you want to come over to my place?... could let you have a meal to welcome you here to Nommindale island" Raymond asked the hybrid, whom would nod in response to the question "sure why not... could certainly enjoy a nice meal~" Melon responds, the two would walk their way over to Raymond's home... a very nice office like home ... a few side rooms are attached to it "Nice place ain't it?" said Raymond "pretty nice place.... wonder where I'll rest my ass once I eat you~" says melon "you can rest it on my face once I reform~.... till then you can enjoy my bed or my office chair" replies Raymond

as this visit grew in length, the louder melon's stomach would growl... the growling making Raymond blush deeply... he'd begin stripping for whatever reason, a bit confusing but regardless it was a free meal... apparently one that reform's after digestion, melon would remove their mask... their long tongue swaying around, Raymond was rock hard and now knelling Infront of Melon, the hybrid pulls the cat up towards his maw as he breathes on Raymond's face...the bad breath washing over him

Past The Teeth And Past The Gums

after Abit of time melon decided to force out a loud BRRAAAAPLCH it was foul in smell...yet Raymond sniffed up the foul belch, and now this feline is going in the maw of the hybrid, the soft squishy wet flesh within gracing Raymond with thier touch...3 gulps would end up sending Raymond into the hybrid's stomach...some weak acidic mixed goop... yellow in color within the stomach with him "d'aw... thought I would have been your first..." Raymond say's in a sarcastic sad tone "heh, you wish...had some random guy who cut in line before I got on the plane..." Melon responds quickly, Patting his gut before belching again....compressing the stomach around him

Bubble Bubble, Squirmy Struggle

melon would lay in the Feline's bed as he would rub his gut, gurgling and loudly glorping....the tight stomach only growing tighter as melon would belch some more, in time the stomach would shrink as the acid's become more potent...melting the cat down within, after some time the cat would reform nearby....seeing the plumped up rear of the hybrid...ofcourse Raymond would poke it at which would wake up the hybrid whom had fallen asleep during the wait for on the digestion process

Bottoms Up

melon would sit up and lift his ass into the air as he pulls down his pants....revealing his surprisingly thick cheek's.....Raymond would lay himself down as the hybrid sat back down on the Feline's face, the pucker opening as a long nasty offffffffffffooooorrrrtfttfttft onto Raymond's face....the musky cloudy gas going into his nose and mouth, through those two entrances it'd end up in his lungs...what a smell, Raymond got hard as he sniffed and inhaled the gas as he blushes deeply while melon laughed "heh, what a damn freak~...I think I'll enjoy this place quite alot~" melon say's as Raymond moans happily as he'd begin purr, the hybrid certainly was fascinated by the Feline's liking of his flatulence and the pressing of his now quite soft ass

Beauty And The Cheek's

hrrrtttt "hehehe, seems pretty windy down there kitty.... hope you loving this as much as I am~" melon would tease as Raymond would say something... being muffled by melon's ass cheek's, a saying of "crisp" being slightly audible "oh you saying something?~" the hybrid lifting his ass off of Raymond's face "o-oh crisp~...oh crisp~" Raymond say's blushing deeply, loving every single second of this...each foul cloud of stank filling the cat's lung's...such deep pleasure being felt by this experience,the hybrid also enjoying this... although it was for the simple fact that Raymond was so oddly kinky....a very interesting time

Squeaky Cheek's

"hm? what are you going on about...." melon asked, confused by Raymond's word's "o-oh it's a comfort phrase o-of a sort..." Raymond replies before having a sharp Brrtt into Raymond's face via melon's tailhole.... ofcourse before the hole would be shoved back onto Raymond's face with a few more shprrttt,Bfft these butt blast's were very stenchful...more so than the previous

after these passing's of gas, melon would get up again and pull up Raymond... putting him near his maw "what a smelly boy~...still very tasty though~..." melon would say licking the Feline's face, giggling ~~and~~ pc... y-your such a

er " Raymond would say still blushing deeply as he'd be shoved into the maw of the Yakuza boss hybrid.... being quickly gulped down before a loud belch would be released

rrrrraaaaaaapppppppppp!~

"heh,you certainly leave me full you freaky cat~" melon teased, ofcourse Raymond was blushing from all this teasing...it was quite alot for him...but that was the clean stuff,some of Raymond that hadn't added to Melon before was ready to come out... luckily Melon readys himself to start dumping all that kitty shit onto the floor,it slid out pretty smoothly...afew bones tickled his Tailhole on the way out but that's common "Phew,you certainly smell terrible coming out of me Raymond...such a rank kitty you are~" Melon teased, slapping his gut as it'd begin rapidly digesting Raymond down to nothing...this time though Raymond wouldn't be reformed... he'd be dumped once more but this time into a kitty litter tray in Raymond's bathroom,was a fresh lot put in too so lucky him

Ain't i a stinker?~

after dumping out Raymond once more Melon would leave, taking a few item's to decorate his home since Raymond won't be needing them anymore...After a day or two the town would empty Raymond's home and open it up to whomever wants it...wonder who would? place probably still reeks

An End For Now,Till Next Time
