

2 trainers were fighting a Bombirder. Arven used his Nachli against the giant crane pokemon while the protagonist used a pikachu.

Arven yelled "ALRIGHT, YOU STUPID BIRD! GIVE UP YOUR HERB!" as the Bombirder screeched back at the trainer. The protagonist said "I think the bombrider is mad at you!" as he was afraid of the titan pokemon.

The protagonist's friend sighed and said "Let's fight this bitch! Shall we?" The protagonist shaked his head as they fought against the bombirder with their two pokemon.

Eventually, the bombirder lost against Arven's Nachli and the protagonist's Pikachu. The protagonist looked at his friend as he said "Let's get the herba, Arven! We need to eat!" Arven looked at the defeated female bird.

The cooker licked his lips and said "Or.." before shoving the large bird's head into his mouth. The protagonist yelled "ARVEN! WHAT ARE YOU DOING? SPIT IT OUT! IT NEEDS TO LIVE!" as he runs to his friend but ends up tripping.

Arven swallows the Bombirdier's neck as the head enters his stomach. Soon, he swallowed the shoulders and waist. The protagonist is forced to watch Arven swallow the Bombirdier's wings, ass, legs, and clawed feet.

As the female titan was fully swallowed and was fully inside his stomach, Arven let out a huge burp and said "Sorry! I feel like this bombirdier is more filling than a sandwich!" as he struggled to get up with a titan-filled stomach.

The protagonist sighed and said "Let's go in the cave, Arven!" as they both head into the cave. Inside Arven's stomach, the bombirdier woke up from getting defeated by 2 small pokemon and realized it was inside a tight and warm container. She tried to move but the area she was in was too tight.

The bombirder realized that a male trainer had swallowed her whole, making it angry. Inside the cave, Arven got a stomachache due to his large prey struggling hard. He said "It hurts so badly!" The protagonist looked at his friend as he knew if he pukes the bombirder out, they are going to be dead.

Arven's friend got shocked and said "Keep the bombirder in, Arven! Don't vomit!" Arven feels like puking but he did not want to due to not wanting to get killed.

The cooker said "I think this herba will help!" as he eats a little of the herba. The protagonist yelled "ARVEN!" as he was shocked. But the herba cured Arven's stomachache as the Bombirder was knocked out due to the effects of the herba and the tightness inside the stomach.

Arven sighed as he said "I thought I was going to let that titan out to kill us!" The protagonist ran to his friend as he said "It's okay!" as he rubs Arven's stomach. He looked worried as he almost was forced to puke something larger than him.

Arven pulled it together as he laid down with a large belly, while the protagonist kept rubbing his huge belly.
