Breakfast in Bed

A Vicky the Vulpera Story

By Hunnter

Lilly's senses began to return one by one as she slowly woke up in the large, comfy bed that she shared with her girlfriend, Chloe. The two young women shared a house together in one of the many housing districts in Stormwind City. She preferred to sleep naked and thus could feel the soft blankets cushioning her bare skin. She heard birds chirping outside as they did every morning.

Then she realised that her head was aching.

What happened last night? Lilly remembered sitting at the local tavern with her girlfriend. The two were drinking... Then, at some point after midnight, they left... and walked home? Yes, that's right. No wait, something was missing...

Lilly rolled over to put an arm over her girlfriend, but instead of smooth skin, her hand met fur. She frowned, and slowly opened her eyes.

As her eyelids fluttered open, she was met with two large, emerald-green eyes staring straight back at her.

"AHH!" Lilly yelped and sat up, clutching the bed sheets to her chest to protect her modesty.

Chloe groaned. "Keep it down 'm tryna sleep..."

"There's a Vulpera in the bed!"

Sure enough, nestled between the two human girls was a red-furred, female vulpera!

Chloe sat up and rubbed the sleep from her eyes. "Ohh... yeah."

"Don't just say 'Oh yeah'!"

"I have a name, y'know..." the vulpera pouted. "I'm Vicky!"

"Oh, uh... sorry. I'm Lilly. What are you doing in our bed?"

Vicky gasped, "Don't you remember?"

"Well, clearly not!"

"I saw you leave the tavern last night and you both looked really good so follow you home. I asked if I could eat you and you said yes, but I don't like eating a big meal before bedtime so I decided to wait and have you for breakfast!"

Lilly blinked. “WHAT?? I- I would never...”

Vicky pointed to Lilly’s wrist, and Lilly noticed that she was wearing a strange glowing bracelet that she recognised immediately.

***

The bracelets were a new addition to the Stormwind legal system. In recent months the city council had noticed that the female population was dwindling due to unchecked predation, so they invented a new wearable trinket called 'Prey Bands'. Each bracelet was primed with a magical sigil that prevented the wearer from removing it once activated, but it required the wearer to say the words “I am prey” to activate. This meant that human women could no longer be poached against their will, but meant that once the bracelet was in place there was no backing out. From that point forward they were legally indistinguishable from meat and could be devoured at any time.

Prey bands were rationed out to any pred who wanted them, but each pred was limited to a maximum of one band per month. Due to Vicky's connections with the constabulary, however, she was permitted to take two per month instead.

Of course, it was still possible for unscrupulous individuals to devour a woman against her will, and 'dispose' of them somewhere private - it was very difficult to prove who had eaten someone once they were just a pile of bones in an alley somewhere. Most predators were law-abiding citizens though, and didn't want to risk being caught with a half-digested girl in their belly and being exiled from the Alliance.

What's more, the law only extended to the city walls and surrounding boroughs, so if a predator really wanted to they could just source their 'meat' from further afield.

***

The band wrapped around Lilly’s wrist was glowing with a purple light, indicating that it had been activated.

Lilly tried to pull it off, but it was no use. She could force the band to move an inch or so, but then it snapped back like it was bound in place by a powerful magnet.

“B-b-but that’s not... Chloe, do something!” Lilly sputtered.

“I meeeeean, would it really be the worst thing if we just... let this happen?”

Lilly’s eyes widened. “What are you saying??”

“We clearly both want this or we wouldn’t have agreed to wear the bands. This little fox is the cutest damn pred I’ve ever seen - no offense - so it’s not like she could have forced us to wear them.”

Lilly looked downcast, “But I don’t want to be eaten...” she said quietly.

Chloe laughed. "Of course you do, who wouldn't? Just imagine how it will feel when your hips are sliding down this vulpera's gullet"

Lilly's face went red and she looked away awkwardly.

"You just don't want to die," Chloe observed.

"Yeah? W-well 'dying' is a pretty big downside to being eaten, don't you think??"

Chloe shrugged. "Yes, but we were always gonna be eaten anyway."

"What do you mean?"

Chloe suddenly ripped the blankets off, leaving the two humans and one vulpera exposed to the elements. Now that the covers were off, Lilly could see that the vulpera was also completely naked.

"Look at us, we look delicious! It's only a matter of time before a pred decides to slip some powder into our drinks one night and stuff us down their gullet. If any other pred had spotted us last night, we might be sobering up inside someone's belly, instead of in our own bed."

"I promise I'll be really gentle," Vicky interjected, trying to ease the nerves of the blonde girl. "Almost all my previous meals said how nice it feels to be eaten by me"

"Almost all...?" Lilly frowned.

"Well, I gotta have some fun for myself once in a while!" Vicky grinned. "But don't worry, I'm going to take good care of you. I'll eat you at your own pace."

Vicky turned to Chloe. "Your breasts look delicious, can I taste them?"

"I mean, I'm basically just a girl-shaped sack of meat at this point, you can do whatever you want to me."

Vicky rolled over and straddled Chloe. She grabbed each breast in her hand and leaned in, stuffing one of the orbs into her mouth and nibbling it gently.

Chloe gasped, and arched her back. "A-ahhh..." she moaned.

"MMmmmm... you taste even better than you look!" Vicky said, sitting up again.

"Th-thanks..." Chloe breathed. "I'm ready for you to take me."

Vicky licked her lips and shimmied down Chloe's legs until she could grab the girl's ankles. She lifted Chloe's feet up to her mouth and sucked them in slowly.

Chloe bit her lip and blushed as she watched her feet disappear. In one smooth motion, Vicky moved past her ankles and up her silky smooth calves. She felt tingles of electric pleasure start to run up her spine. The warm, wet flesh of Vicky's oesophagus wrapped Chloe's legs and pressed inwards on all sides.

Chloe collapsed back onto her pillows and started moaning more loudly as her knees disappeared.

Vicky's eyes were closed, and she was determined to savour every inch of the human girl's body.

Chloe's hands moved down to her nethers, and she started rubbing herself and arching her back. Vicky's maw moved over her tender thighs and hips, pinning her hands in place.

Suddenly, Chloe's body shook and she let out a quivering moan. "Yessss... take me!"

Vicky slowly climbed up Chloe's stomach and chest, and her snout soon bumped up against the girl's ample bosom. She pressed the flesh down with her hands, and shovelled it into her cheeks.

Chloe finally lost all control and started screaming in pleasure. "Fuck... Yes! Eat me!! Destroy me!"

Vicky smiled - she loved it when her meals really got into it - and gulped down her shoulders and neck.

Chloe looked up at Lilly with half-lidded eyes and mouthed the words "I love you" before her head disappeared, and the girl-shaped bulge travelled down Vicky's throat to curl up in her belly.

Vicky moaned loudly, and wiped her mouth. She crawled up the bed and turned over so that she was sitting upright and leaned against the headboard. Her now-massive belly was hanging in front of her, and Chloe's form was clearly visible.

Lilly couldn't believe what she was just seen. Her girlfriend had just been eaten. Swallowed whole by a hungry vulpera.

Vicky took a few seconds to regain her breath, and then wrapped one arm around the remaining girl and pulled her closer. She used her other hand to grope the girl's breast.

"Don't worry," Vicky said, "I'm gonna put all of this meat to good use. You won't be wasted."

"Are you really going to eat me?"

"Yes." Vicky breathed.

"W-will it hurt?"

“Being eaten is gonna feel amazing, I promise. Being digested is going to hurt, but that’s just part of being food I’m afraid.”

Vicky then pulled Lilly onto her belly so that their breasts were pressed together and they were facing each other. Lilly could feel her girlfriend squirm and moan underneath her.

Vicky stoked Lilly’s cheek and licked her face. “I’m going to eat you now,” she cooed softly. “I’ll pull your body inside me and you’ll be squished into my belly alongside your friend. After about 3 hours my stomach acid will start to work on you, breaking you down, and over the next week your body will be digested into mush.”

Vicky liked explaining the process to her more nervous meals because it removed some of the uncertainty, which her ‘food’ seemed to appreciate.

“I’m scared...” Lilly whispered.

“I think it’s natural to be scared,” Vicky smiled, “but this is what you were meant for. I’ve met - and eaten - many women in my travels, all across Azeroth, and I know ‘meat’ when I see it.”

Lilly blushed. She could feel Vicky’s warm, scented breath wash over her, and it felt strangely comforting. She wondered how many women had been in this position before her, how many had died squirming inside this vulpera’s gut.

Vicky’s maw yawned open, and Lilly got her first close-up look at the black abyss that was going to consume her. She didn’t move a muscle as the maw slipped over her face and head. She felt Vicky’s hands grip her sides and pull her in further, gulping down her shoulders and breasts.

When her breasts landed on Vicky’s tongue, she heard moaning echo around her, and Vicky’s teeth started to chew and knead the soft flesh.

Lilly winced, but at the same time felt tingles of pleasure run up her body. For some reason, knowing that the vulpera was enjoying her flesh so much made her immensely happy.

Vicky continued to taste the succulent orbs for a few minutes, before finally continuing with the meal, pulling Lilly’s chest and stomach inside herself and working her way towards her juicy hips.

Lilly hadn’t moved a muscle since the meal had started. Her entire body was completely limp.

Vicky appreciated this, as it meant that the meat had fully surrendered itself to becoming food. She squeezed Lilly’s buttocks and pulled them inside, before slurping up her thighs and throwing her head back. She lifted the girl’s legs above her head and watched serenely as they slipped inside her, pulled by gravity.

Lilly's toes clenched and stretched in a rhythmic fashion as they slowly descended. Her knees slipped inside, then her calves, and finally, Vicky closed her mouth around Lilly's toes and took one final gulp, sending the second girl into her belly.

Vicky threw her head back and screamed in pleasure. "Ahhhhhh oh my gods!" she yelled. "You tasted incredible!!"

Because Lilly had been eaten head first, she was now upside down, and her head had plunged into the acids that were pooling at the bottom of the stomach. The stomach walls were crushing her on all sides, but because they were so wet there was basically zero friction, which allowed Chloe to quickly spin her around so they were both upright.

Lilly sputtered. "Th-thanks..."

Chloe smirked. "Don't think I'm letting you go out that easily. If I have to be slowly digested alive then you have to, too"

"I can't believe we've been eaten."

"Yeah... it's kinda wild. I'm a little relieved though, it's nice to finally know what my purpose is."

The acid had risen about halfway up the girl's bodies now, but didn't look like it was getting any deeper.

"H-how long do you think it'll take us to..."

"Die?"

Lilly nodded.

"No idea. It doesn't really matter though, we're just meat now. Our only purpose is to churn away into nothingness so that this vulpera can get some easy calories."

Vicky rubbed her belly. "You two feel really good in there. Feel free to squirm and scream a bit when digestion starts, it won't bother me. In fact, I love feeling girls squirm while they melt away!"

"I don't think we'll have a choice once our flesh starts falling off our bones," Chloe laughed.

"Hehe, yeah. I can't even imagine what that kind of pain is gonna feel like..." Vicky said.

"Well, you're a predator. You don't need to know what it feels like to be digested." Chloe said.

"That's true! I just get to feel the warm fuzzies while you melt!" Vicky laughed.

"Yep, just relax in our bed while your stomach breaks us down."

[WARNING: GRAPHIC/GRUESOM DIGESTION AHEAD]

For the first few hours after that, nothing much happened inside Vicky's belly. The two girls kissed and fingered each other, determined to make the most of their final hours.

Shortly after, their skin started to burn, and peel, and they began to whimper in pain.

The pain only continued to grow, and the girls started to scream and thrash as their delicate flesh started to fall away in chunks. Their feet and buttocks were the first to succumb to the bubbling acids, and soon the flesh had been eaten away revealing bone and sinew.

A chunk of Lilly's thigh broke off, and she saw her femur poking through her broken flesh. She screamed in agony and clutched Chloe tighter. The two girls were locked in an embrace, trying to seek comfort in the other's arms while their bodies continued to dissolve.

After a couple of days, the girls were silent, having worn out their voices, but were still just barely alive. The vulpera's tiny stomach was in overdrive trying to process all this flesh, but there was more than 3 times the vulpera's body weight worth of girl meat to get through, and this took time.

Vicky was in no rush to hurry the process along either. Every movement of her meals sent shivers of excitement up her spine, and she luxuriated in the frenzied movements of the two humans inside her, knowing that they would soon be gone.

Inside, the two girls were largely mush now. Their legs were completely gone, and their arms were stumps. Chloe's one remaining breast sloughed off her chest and plunged into the bubbling acids, but she was too far gone to even react by this point.

Without arms, they couldn't cling to each other, but the stomach walls pressed their bodies together tightly, and they sunk deeper and deeper with each passing hour.

Lilly was slightly above Chloe, having been eaten second, and she watched as Chloe's head sunk below the acids. She felt Chloe's torso convulse beneath her, and saw bubbles erupt from the acid. Then Chloe went still and she saw a lifeless eyeball float to the surface.

Her heart raced. She had tried to accept what was happening to her, but seeing her girlfriend actually die hammered home the reality of her situation. In a few minutes, her own body would also be a lifeless pile of mush. The vulpera that had eaten her would poop out her remains and leave. She'd probably never even think of them again.

Chloe's body softened, and Lilly started to sink faster as the mound of flesh buckled beneath her. Without any arms or legs, she could do nothing to slow her descent.

"N-noo... wait..." she croaked.

“Shhh, it’s okay,” Vicky cooed while rubbing her belly. “Dozens of girls have experienced their final moments inside my belly. This is a natural part of becoming food.”

Lilly whimpered helplessly as the acids approached, and then she went under. She tried one last time to scream, but then her vision went blurry, and her consciousness faded away into blackness.

Vicky shivered as she felt the girls finally expire. She bit her lip and moaned, this was one of her favourite parts about eating live meals.

It took another few days to finish digesting all the meat still remaining, but once her stomach had done its job, she pulled herself off the bed and dumped the remains into the toilet. She then jumped up, put her clothes back on, and walked out the door into the bright sunshine of Stormwind City.

“Ahh, another lovely day!” She said to herself with a smile, before skipping off down the street humming a merry tune.
